Bolton Village is a TSW designed mixed-use community in Northwest Atlanta. TSW has been retained to design three of the mixed-use buildings at Bolton Village: buildings A, E, and F. The buildings' exteriors are comprised of brick and painted steel in a locally derived architecture blended with contemporary detailing. Building A will become the neighborhood's hub once complete; with its components of office, restaurants, retail and other destinations. This two story building located at the prominent corner of Bolton Road and James Jackson Parkway contains 27,000 s.f. of commercial use with 39 underground parking spaces. With verandas, porches, and outdoor terraces, it promises to be a place people want to be for years to come. Buildings E and F, located off Bolton Road, are each four stories with one level of commercial and three floors of residential.
