

LIBERTY PLAZA

Bentonville, Arkansas

Liberty Plaza, located in downtown Bentonville, Arkansas, is an infill development that combines intown living and commercial uses that complement the historic core of the town. The approximately 18 acres is designed with a hotel and conference center as its focal point, but with an abundance of residential, retail and office uses, which make it not only a destination, but also a community. Retail and restaurant spaces line the internal streets that connect to the surrounding street network and provide for on-street parking. Residential and additional commercial parking is concealed in parking decks or surface lots that are not visible from the street. The architectural style of the development combines “main street” type buildings that are consistent with the region with more modern buildings that add a variety of architectural styles and elements.
